This practical handbook for homes and church communities helps to enrich the Christian celebration of Advent through the creation and use of an Advent calendar. Written for people of all skill levels, Baumgarten provides instructions for a calendar made of paper or junk mail, a no-sew felt version, and a fabric version for more advanced sewers. Teach Us To Number Our Days, however, is more than a simple crafts book. Baumgarten provides readers with a brief history of the development of Advent in the Christian calendar, as well as detailed explanations of the various Christian symbols that can be used during the season. Paying attention to both the Old and New Testament symbols, as well as the Sundays of Advent and the Great 'O' Antiphons from December 17-23, this book is a complete guide to Advent for individuals, families, and churches. Even supernatural beings love the holiday season... This special collection by Award-Winning author, Lisa Kessler, features 3 holiday-themed paranormal romance novellas, and seven holiday short stories featuring shifters, elves, demons, vampires, and more! Escape into the holiday spirit all year round with stories from all your favorite series: The Salem Pack, The Sedona Pack, The Moon Series, The Summerland Stories, The Muse Chronicles, and more! CHRISTMAS PRESENT Hiring Patrick Shaughnessy to landscape her new inn was strictly a business arrangement. Until April Ross got to know the war-scarred single father...and his irrepressible little girl. Patrick made it clear he wasn't looking for romance. Neither was April. But could she make him see that some risks were worth taking? The lively, widowed blonde might be the most tempting woman Patrick had ever known, but the returning vet knew a happy ending wasn't in the cards. Still, that was before April started working her magic on his daughter...and on him. Maybe this Christmas was a time for new beginnings-if Patrick had the courage to go with the powerful feelings April had awakened in him....

Beautiful Christina Campbell appears to be the perfect wife and Mother, and professional Show Jumping Champion, to her stunning Fashionista sister-in-law Chrystabell. They bond immediately becoming closer than sisters, and Chrystabell discovers that there is more to Christina than meets the eye. Who is mysterious fatally attractive Bramwell Stoker, and how does handsome Lord Malcolm Clydesdale instigate the life changing events for Christina? Solid, stable, sagacious Andrew Campbell also hides surprising secrets - what calls him away so often to Scotland from Chelsea, and their Berkshire Stables? How is Christina's life inseparably intertwined with the powerful Triumvirate? This is another compelling and realistic passionate romance, by Lee J Morrison, following the success of Chrystabell's Secrets, and Theo, A Nephew of Chrystabell, as advertised in the TLS, and Kirkus Indie Reviews. If you want to be enthralled, to laugh, to cry, and be entertained, do not miss this poetic novel. (Piano/Vocal/Guitar Songbook). Anticipation is a book of poetry which, while touching on Marguerite Watkins upbringing in India, for the most part is inspired by her life as an adult in America and by her mothers family stories. Her first book of poetry, Patterns in Henna, contained poems about her memories as the daughter of missionary parents in India and she has also written a memoir, Two Taproots, Growing Up in the Forties in India and America. The poems in this book deal with the next part of her life. The author has arranged her poetry into five sections. Section I deals with attitudes towards possessions things that are more than things. II is about family, especially her mothers New England relatives since Patterns in Henna has poems inspired by her fathers life. In III we hear other voices and see other places, including the authors impressions when traveling. IV describes the circle of the Virginia seasons and includes several poems about hiking in the Blue Ridge Mountains. The poetry in V is more contemplative. The author is older now, more mellow, and comes full circle in her thoughts about life. Instead of describing them the author has chosen to share a sample poem from each of the five sections. Section I The Owl in the Christmas Tree As I crept down the stairs to plug in the Christmas lights before the children came down, two wide topaz eyes stared out from the tip of the cedar, a small owl barred brown and white with talons gripping the star. I woke the children, Look, I breathed, .look, he must have come down the chimney. See the flakes of soot on the hearth. We opened the door and nudged him with a rake until reluctantly he flew into an oak. These are the things you live for -- not designer-wrapped gifts, the year-end bonus, the red velvet dress, but a moment of wonder, of surfeit rose-breasted grosbeaks eating holly berries, wind rich with the spice of wild azaleas, full moon through river mist -- the owl in the Christmas tree. Section II Aisle Eight, Cat Food My father stands by the cat food display each Monday. Carefully dressed in suit and tie, he brightens when shoppers stop their carts, gravely gives tips to serious ones who spend a long time reading labels, pondering choices, sardine or shrimp, whitefish or chicken, flaked or smothered in gravy, a difficult choice, the menu for a true patrician. I had a cat, he shyly offers, Premi; it means beloved one. He slept at the foot of my bed, and sat on the table to drink the milk out of my cereal bowl. No cats at the retirement home, the lady said, but Premi died beforehand. He was old too, you know, and lame. Premi was a great hunter in his prime, stalking a squirrel or chipmunk like a cheetah. He was that fast! His favorites were the Nine Lives tuna and Whiskas chicken in sauce. Three aisles over, Mother selects Campbell's tomato soup for his lunch, cornmeal muffins, sliced Velveeta, applesauce. Where's the old gentleman, the stock boy asks. He'll be waiting in pet food, aisle eight, hoping for someone to come by who likes to talk about cats. Section III Camelopard Giraffe, you regard existence through your fringed Cleopatra eyes. With Modigliani neck neither stretched nor strained, your velvet lips select new growth at the top of an acacia tree, leaf buds tight and tender as fiddle-heads, a connoisseur, the gourmand sump Featuring 400 fabulous dessert recipes, this comprehensive cookbook is drawn from the pages of "The New York Times." Four 8-page full-color photo inserts. Size C This book offers an exciting new perspective on Shakespeare's relation to popular culture. Poetry Please: Seasonal Poems is a vital and generous gathering to treasure. For millennia, the passing seasons and their rhythms have marked our progress through the year. But what do they mean to us now that we lead increasingly atomized and urban lives and our weather becomes ever more unpredictable or extreme? Will it matter if we no longer hear, even notice, the first cuckoo call of spring or rejoice in the mellow fruits of harvest festival? How much will we lose if we can no longer find either refuge or reassurance in the greater natural—and meteorological—scheme of things? Nick Groom's splendidly rich and encyclopedic book is an unabashed celebration of the English seasons and the trove of strange folklore and often stranger fact they have accumulated over the centuries. Each season and its particular history are given their full due, and these chapters are interwoven with others on the calendar and how the year and months have come to be measured, on important dates and festivals such as Easter, May Day and, of course, Christmas, on that defining first cuckoo call, on national attitudes to weather, our seasonal relationship with the land and horticulture and much more. The author expresses the hope that his book will not prove an elegy: only time will tell. Originally published: Canada: HarperCollins Publishers Ltd., 2016.
