“I’M SORRY ABOUT EARLIER, Brian and I are just friends so don’t think that . . .” Hindi ko na natapos pa ang explanation ko dahil bigla na siyang sumingit. “Look Maggie, I don’t care about your personal life. We’re here to work. So you don’t need to explain.” Galit ba sa akin si Sir David? Nag-sorry na naman ako, ah. Ang tindi. Mahirap kaya mag-sorry lalo pa at alam kong wala naman akong kasalanan sa kanya. “Ang yabang naman.” Hala, ‘di nga? Nasabi ko ‘yun? Ako ba talaga ‘yong nagsalita? “What did you say? Ako, mayabang?” irritable niyang tanong. Patay na. Ano’ng sasabihin ko?! Kailangan kong mag-isip nang mabuti. “No, didn’t say that! Ang sabi ko lang may garlic ang pizza. Ba-wang,” with fingers crossed, I replied, hoping that he’ll buy my alibi. ooOoo Matawa, kiligin, at ma-inlove. Sino nga ba ang nararapat para Kay Maggie? Si Brian na past niya or si David na boss niya? This is a story of grassroots women who engaged government institutions — the Executive and Legislative branches — to pursue their dream of lifting themselves out of poverty. This is a story of a bureaucracy that systematically listened to its partner beneficiaries and designed a program guided by data, with faces and systems that are owned by the partner beneficiaries. This a story of politics serving the interest of the poor and active citizens. This is the story of grassroots women leaders holding the government accountable for their performance as elected officials of the country. This is the story of making democracy work for the people. By Poets and Writers from the Philippines Discusses how to train and discipline your child to do right and avoid wrong. This memoir paints a nostalgic portrait of the life and times of the young Choppy as he stumbled upon Porky, together creating the legendary comic tandem in the Philippines called Porkchop Duo. For thirty years, the Porkchop Duo entertained generations of Filipinos with their iconic brand of stand-up comedy, travelling to 34 countries as “Showbiz Ambassadors of Good Will” and bringing laughter and fun to countless homesick Overseas Filipino Workers across the world. Told with unyielding candor and wit, Choppy recounts his days: from being a poor Tondo boy in between jobs to make a living, a youth leader keeping a dual personality to ironically conceal his shenanigans, to a young family man winning over his personal battles—inspirations that were to become materials for their much-celebrated repertoire of rib-tickling jokes. Choppy gives us a glimpse of the landscape of the Philippine stand-up comedy, how they found their way in, and broke new grounds. He reveals how they peddled an epic idea that would make them pioneers of comedy albums in the Philippines, eventually making stand-up comedy a household name for entertainment. Then he tells a moving story of grief, when his father, and shortly his partner, Porky, died, and tells how he unremittably continues the legacy of the Porkchop Duo despite the odds. This unprecedented Autobiographical Joke Book packed with almost 100 jokes will surely take you back to the Porkchop Duo’s world-renowned performances. The success of the Ladlad I and Ladlad II gave leeway for editors J. Neil Garcia and Danton Remoto to collect more captivating gay stories across the country. Packed with diverse stories, poems, and essays, this new companion to the series brings reimagination and modernity. Touted as a “new way of writing,” this novel in Filipino centers on Daniel who dreams of writing a novel. He creates a labyrinth of narrative voices inspired by writers he has read—fragments of scenes and situations that blend together, ushering Daniel to self-discovery along the way. Text in Filipino (Tagalog). Masalimuot ang pinagdadaanan ni Max Martin. Ang kanyang karera sa pamamahayag ay bumabagsak. Ang kanyang buhay may asawa ay nanganganib at ang kanyang dalawang kagiliw-giliw na mga anak ay nasa malayo. Ang pagkakataong bisitahin ang lokal na Art Gallery ay nagtulak sa kanya upang hanapin ang pintor na sa tingin niya ay lubos na napapanahon. Sa pagtahak sa landas na ito, dinala siya ng paglalakbay niya sa New Zealand at sa ibayong kontinente. Nagpasya si Max na buhayin ang kanyang malamyang karera sa pagsusulat sa pamamagitan ng pagsulat ng isang nobela na ang pamagat ay Beautiful Brushstrokes. Itinala niya ang lahat ng kanyang pagsasaliksik sa kanyang kwaderno at kalaunan ay natuklasan niyang ang kanyang ginagawa ay nagiging higit pa sa pangkaraniwang proyekto. Anong uri ng likhang sining ang nahanap niya sa galeriyang ito at saan siya dinala ng mga bakas nito? Ano ang kanyang mga nahanap na nagpabago sa pananaw niya sa buhay at bakit siya nasadlak sa kabalintunaan ng mapaglarong tadhana na nagresulta sa aklat na ito? Isusulat ni Max ang nobelang ito at mahahanap niya ang pintor na ito. ‘Yan ang una niyang hakbang upang maiahon ang kanyang karera. Makisali sa paglalakbay na ito upang madiskubre niya hindi lamang ang sarili niya kundi ang marami pang iba tungo sa kanyang tagumpay—o kabiguan! Ito ang ika-9 na nailathalang aklat ni Marshall. Sa paglilipat-lipat mula Tula at Tuluyan (Prosa), pinananatili niyang buhay ang parehong uri ng akda habang sinusuportahan ang bawat isa ng liksi ng isip na nag-iibayo sa kanya upang magtrabaho ng walang kapaguran. Kung nabasa mo na ang isa sa mga aklat niya, hahanap-hanapin mo ang natitirang adka niya. Ang kanyang panulat ay nakakalulong. "As a journalist grief coach and mother who lost a child, (the author) accompanies the mothers with deep compassion. She journeys with them not only with feeling, but also with a clear understanding of the grieving... This book can serve as a good guide for grieving mothers and their families, and all those who want to help them." — Ma. Lourdes A. Carandang, MD

In contemporary educational research, practice and policy, 'indigenous women' have emerged as an important focus in the global education arena and the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda. This edited book investigates what is significant about indigenous women and their learning in terms of policy directions, research agendas and, not least, their own aspirations. The book examines contemporary education policy and questions the dominant deficit discourse of indigenous women as vulnerable. By contrast, this publication demonstrates the marginalisations and multiple discriminations that indigenous women confront as indigenous persons, as women and as indigenous women. Chapters draw on ethnographic research in Egypt, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nepal, Peru and the Philippines and engage with indigenous women's learning from the perspectives of rights, gender equality and cultural, linguistic and ontological diversity. The book investigates intergenerational and intercultural learning and indigenous women's agency and power in the face of complex and dynamic changing social, physical, economic and cultural environments. The grounded ethnographic chapters illustrate indigenous women's diverse historical and contemporary experiences of inequalities, opportunities and formal education and how these influence their strengths, learning aspirations and ways of learning, as well as their values, demands, desires and practices. Chapters 1– 6 and 8 in this book were originally published in a special issue of the journal Studies in the Education of Adults. Halintulad ng kuwento ng buhay ng naging kaibigang masahista sa baywalk, nakipagsapalarang mamuhay mag-isa ni Jaret sa pag-aasam na matakasan ang lagim ng mga bangungot at hilera ng mga trahedyang gumugupo sa kanyang pagkasino. Sa daigdig na ito ng mga gising na malayo sa mahiwagang babaeng wagas niyang sinisinta, maliligaw sa landas niya o siya sa kanila silang mga nilalang na makatutulong sa kanyang makabuo ng kuwento - isang contortionist sex freak, mga birhen at lagalag, filmmaker na mahilig sa mga pahiwatig, at silang bigla na lamang nililindol, namamatay at tumatagos sa pader. Samantalang sa mundo ng mga nananaginip, isang binatang makata ang sumusulat ng isang journal ng mga bangungot habang nasa bingit ng bangin. At kasabay ng sandaling maisilang ang isang butas na kuwentong magpapalutang-lutang sa kawalan na magbubunga ng paghahalo ng kung ano ang totoo sa guniguni at ang gising sa himbing ay ang pagkaunawang silang pinangyaring magbuklod kailanma'y hindi na mapaghihiwalay. The media, both new and traditional, play important roles in making that possible. By telling the stories of the LGBT community, they shatter biases born out of misinformation. I commend Danton Remoto for contributing to the narrative of LGBT Pinoys in his book Happy Na, Gay Pa. To critics of the LGBT movement, I say: Stupid is forever.” — Sen. Miriam Defensor-Santiago

Published by Psicom Publishing Inc From Wattpad EveryWoman, a coalition of women's organizations and formations (currently numbering 11), combined with individual women affiliates and backed up by a FaceBook Page (with more than 100,000 followers), was formally organized in August, 2017, for the purpose of defending democracy and upholding women's rights and dignity at a time when these are under severe attack not only in the Philippines but globally. We had come together, cutting across diverse socioeconomic, ethnic, professional, ideological, and generational backgrounds, to propel organized pushback against the further erosion of civic (also civil) space and of the status and rights that Filipino women have fought hard to attain and have won over the years. As such, our actions in the past years have tended towards the loud and dramatic – in the streets, in public fora, in stinging public statements, often joining our voice with those of our allied Hubs in Tindig Pilipinas. A book had no space in our crowded blueprint for 2020. But then the COVID-19 pandemic happened. As with everyone else, EveryWoman's world was turned upside down. Needing to get back our bearings – personally, organizationally, politically – we started discussions to try to understand the situation better, including the nature of this global health crisis, how it was affecting different aspects of our national life, how it was especially reshaping women's lives on the ground, how government was responding (or not), the role of the private sector and other institutions, the plight of ordinary citizens. We probed our own areas of work and engagement. We invited friends and colleagues where we needed help. We saw it to be our responsibility to continue to surface and strengthen women's perspectives and agency in these difficult and extraordinary times. And, thus, this book was born, emerging from every woman talking to each other and claiming our space to speak up and be heard, intent to make a difference – especially since we saw no women at the frontlines of the national task force set up by the President to respond to the crisis. The self-help book captures common experiences of OFW families from the point of view of wives and mothers. The author, Gitte Quintos, also saw her husband for Saudi Arabia to fast-track their financial goals. Each of the book's chapters focus on an important social and financial issue. Through the book, the wives of OFWs will be empowered to create happy and enriched homes. Tara, Mag-Tagalog Tayo! Come On, Let's Speak Tagalog!
