This manual was written to provide technical information regarding the General Educational Development (GED?) test as evidence that the GED? test is technically sound. Throughout this manual, documentation is provided regarding the development of the GED? test and data collection activities, as well as evidence of reliability and validity. This manual is made up of 10 chapters: (1) Introduction to the GED? tests and an overview of the GED? testing program, including the purposes of the tests and proper uses of test scores; (2) The underlying theory of action for the GED? testing program and the framework for assessing validity; (3) The GED? test specifications and process for developing forms; (4) The standardization process, including the norming, scaling, and equating processes; (5) The standard-setting process for both the High School Passing Standard and GED? with Honors; (6) Scoring processes for both machine- and human-scored test items; (7) The reliability of GED? test scores; (8) Accumulated evidence to support the validity argument; (9) Various accommodations for test-takers with disabilities; and (10) Supplemental materials for test preparation. This manual was written for anyone who is interested in (1) learning about the background of the GED? testing program, (2) understanding how the GED? test was developed and scored, (3) comprehending the statistical characteristics of the GED? test, or (4) knowing more, in general, about the GED? testing program. The following are appended: (1) Reasoning through Language Arts Scoring Rubric; and (2) Social Studies Scoring Rubric. "Information about the development and standardization of the Test of Integrated Language and Literacy Skills (TILLS)"-- 2020 AATCC Technical Manual is a publication of test methods and evaluation procedures developed by the AATCC Research 2021 AATCC Technical Manual is a publication of test methods and evaluation procedures developed by the AATCC Research This manual describes Tonopah Test Range (TTR), defines its testing capabilities, and outlines the steps necessary to schedule tests on the Range. Operated by Sandia National Laboratories, TTR is a major test facility for DOE-funded weapon programs. The Range presents an integrated system for ballistic test vehicle tracking and data acquisition. Multiple radars, optical trackers, telemetry stations, a central computer complex, and combined landline/RF communications systems assure full Range coverage for any type of test. Range operations are conducted by a department within Sandia's Field Engineering Directorate. While the overall Range functions as a complete system, it is operationally divided into the Test Measurements, Instrumentation Development, and Range Operations divisions. The primary function of TTR is to support DOE weapons test activities. Management, however, encourages other Government agencies and their contractors to schedule tests on the Range which can make effective use of its capabilities. Information concerning Range use by organizations outside of DOE is presented. Range instrumentation and support facilities are described in detail. This equipment represents the current state-of-the-art and reflects a continuing commitment by TTR management to field the most effective tracking and data acquisition system available. This Scoring Manual includes in-depth scoring instructions for many of the Wechsler Individual Achievement Test (4th ed.; WIAT-4) subtests, as well as instructions for conducting error analysis on the WIAT-4. It provides convenient access to the essential scoring information that is needed after an assessment is complete. 2015 AATCC Technical Manual is a publication of test methods and evaluation procedures developed by the AATCC Research Committees. The 2015 edition is Vol. 90.
